At one farm-house in the Indian Grave district forty-four flood sufferers are being fed and sheltered. There are a good many horses and cattle still in danger in this district, but they are being looked after as fast as possible. Thousands of people line the banks and sadly view the ravages of the almighty Mississippi.

By Telegraph to the Post-Disparcit. Louisiana, Mo., May 19.—The Mississippi River rose here six inches last night and the flood increased over a foot in depth in the Sny Bottom. Many persons who lingered at home in the hope that the water wouldn't rise so high in the houses as to drive them out, are now leaving in skiffs with loads of chickens. Fintboats loaded with household plunder, corn and farming implements have been coming to this side to-day. The ferryboat continues to bring over the unfortunates and their goods. Another break was reported to-day, making eight large gaps in the levee through which the water is still rushing. No organized effort has yet been made to solicit subscriptions for the unfortunate who have lost their all. Many are abundantly able to stand their losses, but many more actually require the substantial sympathy of the charitable. Subscriptions

We do not expect to elect our national ticket, but the Convention shows that the Union Labor party has a thorough national organization, which is a guarantee of future success. In the roll of States Texas now probably has the best labor organization, and judging from the indisputable facts and data submitted at Cincinnati, I think it more than probable that the next election will result in Texas sending a Union Labor Senator to the United States Senate."

Keating, his brother-in-law, to avoid paying a bond on which he had become liable, thus defrauding the State out of $25,000, Mr. Martin objected and the reading was suspended. Mr. Martin held that portion of the answer had been stricken out by Judge Seddon, who sustained a demurrer to it. The transfer of the property as charged in the alleged libelous sentence was pleaded in the answer as justification for the alleged libel but Judge Seddon had ruled that it was not good in justification though it might be in mitigation. The effect of the action of the Court in sustaining the demurrer was to strike out that portion of the answer. Mr. Ellis held that in such event there would be no answer to that count of the petition. When he had come into the case he asked Judge Seddon if the sustaining of the demurrer barred the introduction of evidence on that point in litigation, and the Judge had said positively that it did not. He (Mr. Ellis) had announced himself ready for trial, believing that he could offer testimony on that point. If it was decided that the portion of the answer. THE POLICE INCREASE.

The facts in regard to the inadequacy of the present police force have been fully presented to the people and the Municipal Assembly by the Post-Dispatch, and the Comptroller has stated that the municipal revenue will warrant the increase provided for by the pending ordinance. Nothing remains, therefore, to be done save that the members of the Assembly shall perform their plain duty in voting as soon as possible for this much neede addition to the force.

The Police Committee of the House onsisting of Messrs. KEENAN, NORDEN and Spelbrink, announced last week that they were ready to report the bill favorably; the public are becoming anxious to know why a week has been al-lowed to pass without some action. There Mr. Charles Pope, in his admirable style, lowed to pass without some action. There is no excuse for delay, and no juggling with this question will be tolerated by the public, who will watch the action of the Delegates on this measure with the keenest scrutiny, and we venture to predict that any Delegate who votes against the bill will find it a difficult matter to explain to his constituents.

The immense concourse of people which will assemble in this city next month affords an additional and most cogent reason for immediate action upon the bill. There is no measure now before the Assembly which requires prompter and more

It gives to planters who desire it two years further service of their slaves, but it is believed that very few will avail themselves of the privilege, since slavery is so nearly extinct and public feeling is so strong against any continuation of it. With her vastarea of fortial land and her undeveloped sources of incalculable wealth, South America needs only such a peaceful union of free states as we have to repeat the rapid growth of the United States.

MILLIONS MADE FREE. The Total Abelition of Slavery in the Empire

The passage of the law referred to.

The passage of the law referred to, he said. "was anticipated for a long time. For years past the Emperor, Dom Pedro, had set his mind on effecting the abolition of slavery in the Empire. As far back as 1871 a law was passed for the gradual emancipation of the vast slave population, but it was badly administered and in many places not enforced at all. A more stringent but it was badly administered and in many places not enforced at all. A more stringent iaw was passed in 1885, whereby all persons born in slavery should be free at the age of 21, and all slaves over 60 years of age should be entitled to liberty. To facilitate the opera-tion of this law a deduction of 6 per cent for each dollar in the value of each slave and such dollar in the value of them share and a tax of 5 per cent on all imports and internal taxes was imposed for the Government immunipation fund. Voluntary societies for buying up slaves sprang up in almost every city, and one province freed all its slaves by emancipation fund. Voluntary societies for buying up slaves sprang up in almost every city, and one province freed all its slaves by paying the masters the Government valuation. Still the Emperor was not satisfied with the slowness of this process, and through his influence a bill for the immediate emancition of the slaves was introduced into Parliament at each session. On leaving Rio for his European tour last July he passed the helm of amairs to his daughter Isabella, the Princess Regent, with the injunction that she would leave no means unexercised to bring about the passage of the emancipation bill. The bill was presented, and the Ministry, refusing to pass it resigned. A new Ministry was formed and the bill was passed by both Houses.

"It had been the intention of the Parliament, on the advent of the new Ministry, to pass the bill on the day of the Emperor's return to Rio de Janeiro as a compliment to His Majesty, but after a more serious consideration they concluded to act at once and not leave so important a matter to chance. A condition of the new law requires that all the emancipated negroes now on the coffee plantations must remain there until the next coffee crop is gathered in, but, in the meantime, they are to receive a small rate of wages from their former owners. The freedmen, during this period, shall not be locked up in their quarters as formerly, and may, outside of working hours, so where they please within certain limits. The former owners receive no compensation, the Government holding that they have been sufficiently compensated already by the fruits of the unpaid labor of the slaves in the past.

"By the recent emancipation law, nearly 1,000,000 slaves are freed from servitude. Outside of the plantations, the slaves in private houses being almost invariably regarded and treated as members of the family. In recognition of this enlightened measure removing the last stain of slavery from the New World, Pope Leo XiIII., has sent the golden rose to the Princess Regent of Kray.

"Go up stairs," he wrote, "into the attic, and you will find there a thieves' trap made for secreting goods." The information was imparted to the authorities and true enough, the trap was found. It consisted of a box made of heavy planks nailed to the flooring. It was filled with sawdust, probably to cover stolen goods. It took quite a while to find the door, which opened by a secret spring. The sawdust looked as though goods had been pulled recently out of it, but nothing was found in the hiding-place. It is rumored that a number of startling disclosures will be made at this trial.

TRADE WITH AUSTRALIA.

OTTAWA, Ontario, May 19.—A large number of members of Parliament waited on the Governor-General yesterday for the purpose of asking him to urge the Imperial Government to summon a conference to consider the question of improved trade relations between the Dominion and Australian colonies. In reply the Governor-General said he would do all in his power to facilitate the objects of the deputation. Referring to recent criticisms of his speech at the Ottawa banquet, he said his desire in referring to the Imperial Federation movement was to enforce the danger of pressing these proposals too hard and too far, and of outstripping public sentiment.

Mr. Blakely from joint committee appointed to consider the advisability of the city's acquiring gas-works, submitted the following

To the Honorable President of the Council and Speaker of the House of Delegates.

GENTLEMEN—Your joint committee, appointed to consider the matter of the city owning, controlling or operating its own gas-works, respectfully report that they have considered the same and beg leave to submit the following report:

respectfully report that they have the same and beg leave to submit the following report:

On January 1, 1890, the tripartite agreement will expire by limitation, and the city and the St. Louis and Laclede Gas-Light Cos. be absolved from their respective and mutual obligations and contracts. The situation will then be as follows: The Laclede, which now occupies that part of the city north of Washington avenue, with its mains, pipes and connections, will have the whole city thrown open to it by virtue of its rights under its charter. Said charter is claimed by the company to be perpetual, and this claim is conceded by the City Counselor. That company claims also that it is in nowise restricted as to price to be charged for gas after January 1, 1890. This claim is disputed by the City Counselor on the ground that while the city did not have the right to require the terty did not have the right to require that right afterwards, in 1870, about three years before the Laclede actually engaged in the manufacture and distribution of gas.

TO SEE HIS AGED MOTHER.

A Deserter From the British Army Returning Home to Surrender.

By Telegraph to the Post-Disparch.

New Yorks, May 19.—James F. Bairdwood will sail for Liverpool to-day, going thence to Exeter to report to Lieut. Brombead of the Twenty-Fourth Regulars. He came here from Allegheny City, and proposes to give himself up, having deserted from the British Army about eight years ago. Mr. Bairdwood is a rather good looking young man of about 3; years, and carries himself in true English army style. He is a fluent talker, and told a reporter that eight years of his life had been passed as a member of the Queen's army. Because of the swere discipline he deserted. He tells a story that is full of adventures. He was in Chicago penniless, at the time of the Queen's jubilee, when she issued her proclamation of pardon to all deserters and was unable to take advantage of the offer. Bairdwood was with Lieut. Bromhead in the defense of Roorke's drift against the Zulus. He was with the skirmishing party when Prince Napoleon was thrown from his horse and killed by the Zulus before ald could reach him. Three years of his army life was passed in India.

After his return to Exeter from India he was discharged, but upon receiving his pay he, with two other soldiers, determined to the morning papers would imagine that the interest of the new deed, dated October 28, 1887, inasmuch as this culb believes it to be in the interest of all parties, and the terms of the new deed, dated October 28, 1887, inasmuch as this club believes it to be in the interest of all parties, and the terms of the new deed, dated October 28, 1887, inasmuch as this club believes it to be in the interest of all parties, and the terms of the new deed, dated October 28, 1887, inasmuch as this club believes it to be in the interest of all parties, and the terms of the new deed, dated October 28, 1887, inasmuch as the club challenge under these terms would be accepted but with the positive understand. It is shall be held under and subject to the full terms of the new d After his return to Exeter from India he was discharged, but upon receiving his pay he, with two other soldiers, determined to have a night of it, and as a result he again enlisted. While lying outside the harber at Piymouth on their way to India in the early part of 1884, he dropped overboard, awam ashore, and made his way to Liverpool whence he took passage to America. While In this country he has roamed around from place to place, frequently suffering for want of food. His principal reason for going back is to see his aged mother, who is unable to make the voyage to this country. Bairdwood expects to be dealt with leniently, and thinks by what his old Lieutenant wrote him that he will be sentenced to thirty days' confinement at hard labor. He is willing to run the risk of even more severe punishment to see his mother once again. He says he will return to America. The young soldier was promoted to the race in the morning papers would imagine that the inthe the mish was fast and desperate, and that The Bard was the gr

A man buys 100 feet for $1,600, paying one-fifth cash, but in five years, with interest at rate of 5 per cent per annum, payable semi-seniously. Now at the end of one year he can sell out at $520 profit, which he refuses to do, thinking that if he can make $520 each year it would be to his advantage to hold the lot. NEW YORK, May 19 .- It became evident to local yachtsmen, after the strenuous objection of foreign yacht clubs last year to the conditions of the new deed of gift of the America's oup, that there was a mighty slim chance of any foreign yacht owner sending a challenge across the water again. This has caused New York Yacht Club yachtsmen to consider the York Yacht Club yachtsmen to consider the advisability of modifying the stringent restrictions of the new deed of gift, and on Thursday night, after many weeks of consultation with members, Commodore Grey presented at the general meeting of the club amended conditions which were unanimously adopted in the following form:

Whereas, the Secretary of this club has received letters, dated November 26, 1837, from the Royal London Yacht Club and from the Yacht Racing Association, representing the principal yacht clubs of Europe, and dated February 22, 1888, regretting the terms of the new deed of gift of the America's cup, presented by George L. Schuyler and dated October 28, 1837, are such that foreign vessels are unable to challenge; and whereas, in this deed of gift, by which the cup is now held by this club, any mutual agreement may be made between the challenged and challenging party; therefore,

"As a matter of fact the last quarter was about as slow as any quarter was ever run upon a race track, the time being 28% seconds, and the only distinguishing feature was the bull-dog tenacity with which the horses struggled through the mud. The animals were about as tired as they well could be, and instead of going like the fabled Pegasus were traveling, so far as speed was concerned, after the manner of horses at a country fair. The second last quarter of the race was very slow, being run in 28½ seconds. The horses did their very best, however, in the mud, and were kept going at the end by the unsparing use of whips and spurs. The Bard was a sight to see at the finish. He was frightfully punished with the whip, his sides were cut open with the spurs, he was gashed and bleeding, and looked as if a blind man had slashed him with a razor. It was terrible punishment for the brave son of Longfellow, but only just such heroic treatment could have made him finish in front. Hanover was also badly used up by the spurs, but not at all so much as The Bard. To show the tired condition of the horses at the finish, and to show how foolish is the statement that the horses came up the home-stretch like a finish, it's only necessary to state that the first half mile was run in fifty seconds and the last half mile in fifty-seven seconds. The time made, however, was highly creditable, considering the nature of the track, which was ankle deep in water."

Mr. Edgar Wins.

A friendly fifty-bird pigeon match was shot this morning between Mr. S. C. Edgar and Mr. J. W. Gates at Compton Avenue Park, Four Men Lynched by a Mob in Ne Man's Land.

Moodward, I. T., May 19.—A party of vig flantes overtook and captured four men driving a herd of stolen ponies in No Man's Thursday night. Two of the prisoners were noted criminals, known as Chitwood and Dandy Hook, and perhaps deserved their fate, but the other two protested their innocence, claiming that they were but employed to assist in taking care of the horses. Their story, however, was hooted at, and all four were

This "good name" among people who have known Hood's Sarsaparilla and its proprietors for years should cer-tainly be strong evidence to people in other cities and towns of the excellence and merit of this medi-

Every Spark Helps

"Knowing that every spark helps to kindle a fire, I wish to add my testimonial to the many already pub-lished concerning Hood's Sarsaparilia. I had salt rheum on my left arm so bad that it almost disabled me from work. I took three bottles of Hood's Sar-saparilla, and the salt rheum has entirely dis-appeared. I had it for three years, and my friends know how I suffered. I am willing to answer all inquiries." H. M. Mills, 71 French street, Lowell, B. Sanderson, 56 Newhall street, Lowell, Mass.

Mass.

Abhome is a tower of strength abroad—says the familiar proverb, and it is fully verified by the history of Hood's Sarsaparilia. The first words of commondation and praise for this medicine were received from our friends and neighbors, and from the time it was fairly introduced up to the present, there has been, and is now, more of Hood's Sarsaparilia sold in Lowell, Mass., where it is made, than of all other sarsaparilias and blood purifiers combined.

"100 Doses One Dollar" is not a catch line only, but is original with and true only of Hood's Sarsaparilla, which is the very best spring medicine and blood purifier. Now, reader, prove it. Take a bottle home and measure it contents. You will find it to hold 100 teaspoonfuls. Now read the directions, and you will find that the average dose for persons of different ages is less than a teaspoonful. Thus economy and strength are peculiar to Hood's Sarsaparilla.

The following is from Mrs. C. W. Marriott, whose husband has been a member of the Lowell Fire Department thirty-four years, and who is well known in

"For fully sixteen years I was troubled with a disorder of the stomach and severe sick headache, which nothing seemed to relieve, though I consulted physicians and have expended over a thousand collars for prescriptions and advice. I was strongly urged to 'try Hood's Sarsaparilla, bubrefused for a long time. Finally, I determined to give it a fair trial, and am glad I did so. I had become all down, suffered from nervous prostration, and, of fortnight or oftener, had very severe attacks of

Sick Headache

Member of the Legislature from Ward 6, Lowell, makes this statement:

"Four or five years ago my father. Nathaniel Thompson, living in Dover, N. H., was run over by a wagon and received an injury to his right leg, below the knee. A sore formed, which increased in size, discharged constantly so that he had to keep it bandaged all the time and caused him a great deal of suffering. He was confined to the house most of the time. He received only temporary relief from medical treatment, and physicians told him he would have to have his leg amputated. About eight months ago he began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and soon noticed an improvement in the condition of the sore. Now his leg is entirely well, and he is able to be about in good health." ALBERT G. THOMPSON, at which times I was obliged to take to my bed, and
